

A story

Last Friday, the weather was sunny. Peter went hiking with his family. They went to a country park.

On the way, Peter's brother Tom picked some wild berries and he ate one. Peter said, 'Stop! Don't eat the wild berries. The wild berries are poisonous!' Tom said, 'No! No! No! The wild berries are very yummy!'

Then, Tom was sick. He had a stomachache. Peter said, 'Help! Help my brother!' Mum took out her mobile phone and called for help. Mum and Peter were worried. Dad took care of Tom.

In the end, the ambulance came. The ambulanceman sent him to the hospital with Tom's family. They felt very scared. Tom got well but the doctor said, 'Tom, you should stay at the hospital for one day.' It was a bad day!
